

ART HISTORY AND ARCHAEOLOGY, DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY (PH.D.)

A total of thirty-three credit hours, after the M.A. degree, is required for the Ph.D. program. For the direct Ph.D.—in which the M.A. degree is bypassed—the student must complete a total of fifty-seven credit hours. For coursework distributional requirements, see the department's web page. A minimum grade of "B-" is required for all courses approved for graduate credit. Two grades below "B-" result in dismissal from the program.

Advance to Candidacy: In addition to the below course requirements, all doctoral students must pass two advisor-approved, field-specific foreign language exams (one of these could have been taken as an M.A. student), submit a successful request for approval of doctoral exam topics, pass both the written and oral doctoral exams, and successfully defend a dissertation proposal, and Post-candidacy: Students must successfully defend a dissertation.
