

CLASSICS, MASTER OF ARTS (M.A.)

Students choose either the Latin track or the Latin and Greek track. In addition to completing the course requirements based on their chosen track (see below), students are also required to:

1. Submit a commentary on a Latin or Greek text;
2. Write a research paper, along with an initial proposal that describes their project;
3. Present this research paper at the Classics MA Research Conference, usually held at the end of their second year.

Latin track: 30 credits required

Course	Title	Credits
Core Requirements ¹
LATN472	Historical Development of the Latin Language	3
or LATN672	Historical Development of the Latin Language
All other courses in LATN6XX ²		27
Total Credits		30

¹ Students may substitute up to 6 credits of LATN 400-level courses. Additional 400-level courses may be allowed by permission of the Director of Graduate Studies.

² Two of these courses may be substituted for a course in CLAS, HIST, or an allied field for a total of 6 credits.

Latin and Greek track: 33 credits required

Course	Title	Credits
Core Requirements ³
LATN472	Historical Development of the Latin Language	3
or LATN672	Historical Development of the Latin Language
GREK472	History and Development of the Greek Language	3
or GREK672	History and Development of the Greek Language
All other courses in GREK6XX and LATN6XX ⁴		27
Total Credits		33

³ Students may substitute up to 9 credits of GREK and LATN 400-level courses. Additional 400-level courses may be allowed by permission of the Director of Graduate Studies.

⁴ One of these courses may also be substituted for a course in CLAS, HIST, or an allied field for a total of 3 credits.